

Randall W. Eberts
Executive Director
W.E. Upjohn Institute for Employment Research
Kalamazoo, Michigan

Dr. Eberts is Executive Director of the W.E. Upjohn Institute for Employment Research, an independent nonprofit research organization that conducts research on policy-relevant employment and regional economic issues. The Institute also is the administrative entity for the local Workforce Investment Board. Prior to joining the Institute in September 1993, Dr. Eberts held several positions including assistant vice president and economist at the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland, an associate professor of economics at the University of Oregon, and senior staff economist on the President's Council of Economic Advisers. His primary areas of interest include job training, education, low-wage workers, and the evaluation of workforce programs. He earned a Ph.D. in economics from Northwestern University.