

BOB GILOTH

Bob Giloth is the Director of the Family Economic Success area of the Annie E Casey Foundation, a private philanthropy dedicated to helping build better futures for disadvantaged children in the United States. Bob is responsible for work on the Jobs Initiative, family economic supports, such as EITC, and other economic opportunity investments

Prior to joining the Foundation in December 1993, Bob managed community development corporations in Baltimore and Chicago and was Deputy Commissioner of Economic Development under Mayor Harold Washington.

Bob has a Ph.D. in City and Regional Planning from Cornell University. He has written articles and edited books about community, economic, and workforce development.