In the fourth week of April, the Weekly Index of Retail Trade decreased 0.2% on a seasonally adjusted basis after decreasing 0.3% in the previous week. For the month of April, retail & food services sales excluding motor vehicles & parts (ex. auto) are projected to increase 0.3% on a seasonally adjusted basis and to decrease 0.2% when adjusted for inflation.

Retail & Food Services Sales Ex. Auto

billions of $, seasonally adjusted

The first figure shows retail & food services sales ex. auto from the U.S. Census Bureau's Monthly Retail Trade Survey (MRTS) and Advance Monthly Retail Trade Survey (MARTS). Also shown in the figure as a seasonally adjusted monthly rate is a weekly index of retail trade that is benchmarked to the Census Bureau's data. The index summarizes weekly data on retail transactions & foot traffic, gasoline sales, and consumer sentiment, and is used to project current monthly retail & food services sales ex. auto.

Retail & Food Services Prices Ex. Auto

chain-weighted $, seasonally adjusted, 2017=100

The second figure shows retail & food services prices ex. auto as measured by the U.S. Bureau of Economic Analysis's (BEA) chain-weighted price index. Also shown in the figure is a seasonally adjusted weekly index of retail prices that is benchmarked to the BEA's data. The index summarizes weekly data on gasoline prices and monthly and weekly measures of online prices.
