

GLENN STEVENS

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, MICHauto;
VICE PRESIDENT, AUTOMOTIVE AND MOBILITY INITIATIVES

Glenn Stevens is the executive director of MICHauto and serves as the Detroit Regional Chamber's vice president of automotive and mobility initiatives. In this role, Stevens provides strategic direction and leadership to the MICHauto program in its efforts to promote, grow and retain Michigan's automotive and next-generation mobility industries. MICHauto is a statewide industry association focused on developing the state's automotive and mobility industry in the key areas of: talent and education, advocacy, industry awareness, mobility and the startup ecosystem.

Stevens has more than 25 years of management, strategy and operation experience across the automotive, mobility, steel, specialty chemicals, and capital equipment industries. Prior to joining the Chamber, Stevens served as senior vice president of membership and sales with the Original Equipment Suppliers Association, where he was responsible for membership growth and retention, strategic partnerships, and automotive industry development with states across the nation. Additionally, his previous experience includes leadership positions with Blue Water Automotive Systems, Kolene Corp., and National Steel Corp.

Stevens serves on the Governor's State of Michigan Mobility Leadership Steering Committee and leads the Detroit Mobility Solutions Coalition. Additionally, he currently serves on the board of Team 1 Plastics, the board of the Michigan State University Broad Executive Forum and serves on the Executive Planning Committee of the FIRST Robotics Championship.

He earned a bachelor's degree in economics and an executive MBA from Michigan State University.
